

Information | Last modified 03/2021

Cloud services tailored to your requirements

New technologies can be used efficiently and cost-effectively in a cloud. The upshot is greater flexibility, increased dynamism and far lower IT costs.

Digitalisation is a challenge and opportunity at the same time. Cloud services not only improve cost-effectiveness, but also open up new rapid ways of responding flexibly to market trends and customer requirements.

We support primarily all companies in the DB Group as they transition to the cloud with the DB Enterprise Cloud. As a central integrator we optimise costs of the used infrastructure. In addition, we guarantee the highest level of data protection through centralised IT security management in the Group.

Advantages of cloud services:

- Promotion of new business models and innovations
- Maximum flexibility and reduced time-to-market
- Lower IT costs and less capital employed

Operation of the cloud infrastructure and applications – choose the offering best suited to your needs

We have a range of offerings, each tailored to your wishes, requirements and relevant use cases.

Want to maintain control of your applications?

This is possible with our cloud expertise. We take over management of the underlying virtual data centre, thus guaranteeing network security and compliance with statutory requirements.

Are you looking to shift your operationally managed applications to the cloud quickly and easily?

We will help you by migrating your existing on-premises applications to the cloud. In doing so, we will endeavour to identify and implement optimisation measures straightaway. The migration overhead is kept low and running costs are already reduced.

Are you looking for DB System to optimise operation of your cloud applications?

The targeted use of the cloud provider's highly standardised services and functions makes you more flexible and optimises your costs. The key levers are standardisation, automation and scalability, i.e. you only pay for the resources you use (pay-per-use).

Consulting services for your tailor-made cloud

To ensure cloud services are optimally tailored to and deployed for your business, we will gladly provide you with advice across a range of technologies on topics such as:

- Migratability of your applications
- Optimisation of operation and applications
- IT architecture
- Auditability of your services
- Rights and obligations according to Group specifications regarding IT security and data protection

What cloud fits in with your business?

Get in touch with us – we will be happy to advise you.